Mile

1. 3:30 – Sherry Rogers Williamson

Resorted to the stationary bike this morning--one mile, 3 1/2 minutes. Time really doen't matter, as anything I do is in "slow" mode these days. Congrats to all--it's such fun hearing from all of you. Neal--thanks for the great pictures!!! Tom--thanks for keeping us connected another year. Looking forward to next year. Here's to all of us!!!!

2. 4:38 – Dave Petersen

I hydrated this afternoon and moved my bike to the front of the house. The sky was blue with puffy, white clouds. As I innocently straddled the bike and gripped the handle bars a bumble bee stung the second joint of the third finger of my left hand. As this point, I did not know if the insect world was warning me of impending doom and trying dissuade me from riding, but I reasoned that insects are not necessarily known for their high level of prescience. I did derive some satisfaction by dancing a wild tattoo on the fury little thorax of the bumble bee, thus disassembling him. I went back into the house and took a Benadryl and an Acetaminophen. I again mounted the bike and went on my ride. During the ride I became strangely sleepy. Perhaps it was the REM time I had missed the night before. To bring a long tale to a close, having revealed the some of the vagaries of life, I managed a time for ten miles of 46 minutes and 19 seconds – and thus ended my odyssey involving the Annual Glenbard Class of 1959 Get-together-athon. Best wishes to all,

3. 4:65 – Teun Schoolwerth

I decided to forego the Sunday NY Times and hit the road before it got too hot. My bike, new knees and I cycled 25.8 miles in 2 hours (12.9 mph per my bike's computer). It felt good except for the last three miles, which is an uphill climb back home. I can't say my new knees made me go any faster as I didn't have any problem cycling before the operation; maybe it was the added inch in height I gained (from correcting my bow legs) that gave me some more traction.

4. 7:18.4 - Margie Shaw Stoll

At the Tennessee State Senior Games this morning, I did the 1500 meters, but unlike last year, I didn't stop at the finish line. I kept on going the extra 109 meters to make a mile where my coach was standing with her stop watch. The other participants and the officials were aware of my intentions (and loved the virtual mile concept) but afterwards I sure got some curious comments from others at the track. My time for the mile was 7:18.4...which I believe is a couple of seconds faster than my time from last year when I ran the 1500 meter race plus 109 virtual calculated meters in Sacramento at the Worlds. A slight drizzle was falling during the race this morning. Runners say that it makes breathing easier. It did seem to help, but I like to think that it was my running attire that gave me an edge. I purchased a pink running shirt which I wore for this morning's race. On my feet this morning, I was wearing pink ankle socks from Nancy. So...maybe it was the weather conditions that helped me out in the race, but I will always believe that it was the positive vibes coming from my outfit. Thank you, Class of "59

5. 8:04 – Tom Chandler
I put on my Dartmouth Indian t shirt (so un PC these days) and my Glenbard cap and headed over to the track at about 10. It is only a mile or so from the Pacific, and there was a marine layer of clouds at that hour so it was a comfortable 68 degrees with only a slight breeze. A few football players were on the field and the track was empty. I know I have to start fast and try to hang on to have a chance at a good time so I went out in a 1:52, which I knew I would suffer for. I managed to keep the next quarter at 2:03 for a 3:55 half. The third quarter was a 2:10 for a time of 6:05 and I was wobbling a bit and hurting but had enough left in the last 100 to finish at 8:04. I was shocked that I was that close to breaking 8 and so thankful to be able to do this another year.

6. 8:39 – John Staedke
Mine was a puffing 8 minute 39 seconds "run," 24 seconds off last year. As promised, I trained not this year so as to avoid over-training. As a result I had no knee or other structural issues except my calves feel like the rubber bands on a kid's balsa wood airplane wound for an attempt at a record flight. To paraphrase an old saying, the spirit was willing to give it a go but the flesh had already got up and gone. Temperature was 77 degrees, partly cloudy, with about 89% humidity at 6:30am.

7/7. 9:50 – Jim and Beth Lewis
Yesterday Beth and I did a 30 mile, slow, round trip bike ride from East Hampton to Shelter Island, about 100 miles east of New York City. 85 degrees, quite flat, and the occasional dog. We left our rented house at 11am and got back at 3:45. Today I have stooped to pick up the Sunday New York Times, recharge my Ipad, and will watch a Yankees game on TV. But the most important thing for me today is to bask in the broad warmth and deep affection shared amongst our classmates as we have all traveled different paths for the last 53 years. I wish I were able to join the Lake Ellyn strollers, which brings back so many fond memories, partly from having been a member of the cross country rat pack. For those doing the Lake stroll, they may notice a park bench near the north side of the Boat House, in the memory of my parents. They will be smiling as our '59 classmates stroll by today! Kindest personal regards to all. Jim

9. 10:40 – Steve Capel
"You crazy old fool!" My wfe's exclamation, as she picked me up off the pavement and helped me onto a park bench. " What ever possessed you to think you could run a mile again?" Well, true confessions. It was jog, walk, crawl and limp, but the combination brought me around the 3 1/2 loops of our complex (give or take a few yards of a mile) in 10 min 40 sec. Now I have to go soak my knees! But I did hear coach Johnson hollering, "Pick it up, little sister! Don't leave it on the course." God rest his soul.

10. 12:09 – Roger Griffith
Unfortunately, after arriving back home, my old Cross Country competitive juices started flowing, and I thought, I can't live with this morning's "stroll" time on our old Cross Country course. Like Steve Capel's wife, my wife didn't think it was a good idea. In fact, with all my health issues, the heat, and the fact that the only jogging I've done in 2 years was last year's Reunion mile, she said it was downright stupid! But…off I went.
The first 1/8th mile was fantastic, just like old times. The next 1/8th mile was a bit slower, but satisfactory. The next 1/8th was much slower. Then, wham, I "hit the wall", and didn't think I could continue my "jog". I decided to jog even slower and push through to the ½ mile mark, because from Grace and St. Charles (heading south along Grace) is a slight, fairly long downhill. My first half-mile time was a blistering 5 minutes 28 seconds, deluding me into hallucinating that I could do an 11-minute mile.

However, my "jogging" was so slow from that point on, that it's possible that walkers might have passed me, had they been going the same direction. I stayed at that pace for the second half mile, and finally finished with a time of 12 minutes and 9 seconds (wow…in college, I would've covered over 2 ½ miles in that amount of time).

11. 13:04 – Dave McCollum
Report from coastal Connecticut. Walked mile this morning in 13:04. Temp 74, high tide. No dog this year as Coach Chandler advised me last year to skip the dog walk as it was killing my time. Dog not happy with his advice. See you next year.

12. 13:09 – Barb Fossum Mutz
13 min, 9 sec. I did a mile on the elliptical machine in ac in13 minutes 9 seconds. I think that machine may be easier than running. Is that cheating?

13. 13:48 – John Windeguth
Couldn't believe the morning temp of 73 at 6:45am here in Frisco, Tx. Last year it was a 100 degrees! Can't say it helped my time of 13:48, which was about the same as last year. Enjoyed the banter and challenge again this year. Looking forward to next year.

14. 13:50 – Linnea Asplind Riley
It was a perfect San Diego morning for running...in the 60's, partial marine layer, so no actual sun. The real trick for me is the timing. Wanted to be our there late enough to be on the street AFTER the coyotes had gone in but BEFORE the neighbors came out (in order not to make a spectacle of myself). However, if I had been a little early on the coyote part of the equation, I bet it would have improved my time exponentially! 13:50 for me and I am hoping that is at least as good as last year. Thank you, Tom and to all of you old friends for making this such a fun and healthy thing to be a part of (or as Miss Pieper might have said, "...a fun and healthy thing of which to be a part).

15. 14:00 – Mary Hanson
Thanks, Tom. I did email to Dick because I thought that you wanted us to do so. Anyway, on the 13th I wrote a simple note about walking two miles, and one of them was in 14 minutes. Nothing special to report.

16. 14:19 – Beverly Staedke
Staedkes reporting in: Beverly walked her mile in a quick 14 minutes and 19 seconds.

17. 14:30 – Pam Wildish Bosworth
I did my mile at 8:30 a.m. in 60 degree temp. - very nice and cool - and finished in 14.5 mins. I beat the drizzle and stayed dry. This aft. my sister DeeJay (Glenbard class of '60) and I will be going to the Antique Show in Portland - envy you Margie for getting a tour of Bob Brunk's auction warehouse. Good luck on your auction today, Bob. Thanks again Tom for all your efforts and all classmates for keeping this going.

18. 14:37 - Jill Buettner Hollifield
I decided to have breakfast and read the Sunday paper before reporting in. I did the walk at 7:30 when the temp was 83 and the humidity 87%--typical for Raleigh, NC, as Helen may recall. (The Mutzing is just beginning.) And I have a cracked rib. Did the 1 mile walk while doing my usual Sunday morning job: delivering newspapers to my neighbors on the little gravel road we all live on. Time was 14:37. All I could think of was that's about twice the time it takes Margie to do it, pink socks or no, and I have actually seen her do it. So much fun to read everyone's comments!

19. 15:03 – Gary Mutz

I have to say my results are a great let down from my past performance of being in second or third place behind John but ahead of Chan. I strolled a mile yesterday at 15:03, couldn't even do my glide; wait to next year with a new set of knees possibly. Have a good year to all of you and will reestablish contact same time, same place nest year

20. 15:12 – Cliff Argue

I did my walk starting about 2:30 p.m. this afternoon as planned in the Bellevue (WA) Downtown Park - two laps around the park including a good size pond equals one mile. My time was 15:12. Following our nearly two weeks of summer, we are back to more typical weather in the Puget Sound/Seattle area - mostly cloudy with as the forecasters call them "occasional sun breaks." Temperature was 67 degrees, humidity 52 per cent with light to moderate breezes. Fortunately, during most of my walk we were having one of those sun breaks, but the wind kept things a bit cool - enough to make the light jacket I was wearing feel good. A celebratory visit to Yogurtland right next to the park put back on any calories (and possibly more) than I walked off, but it was good to toast our Class of '59 and especially Tom for organizing and keeping us together like this. To next year!

21. 15.46 – Gay Galle Danna

New York City, 7:15 am, The Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis Reservoir, 74 degrees, really high humidity. I was really encouraged and very proud of myself for having jogged around the Reservoir without stopping to take a walking break. Then when I calculated my time I was shocked that it was more than either of the 2 previous years!! Seriously, I'm sure that I could fast/walk it in a much shorter time! All that wasted energy of the up and down of jogging…. We'll see next year. Or maybe the problem was jet lag. Wednesday night I returned from 2 weeks in Milan and Paris, mostly pleasure and just a little business. Yes, that must be it!

22. 17:00 – Carole Pennino Bahnick

Thanks for organizing this...it was such fun hearing from everyone. I did my mile on a treadmill....forget that, think I'll try something else next year. It took about 17 minutes. I staggered to the pool to get welcome relief.

23. 17:20 (16:80?) – Bonnie Sporka Shableski

Bonnie (Sporka) reporting in from southeast Virginia with a 16:80 mile, or was it 8:16? (Only in my dreams.) John Staedke, congrats on a great time. You're right up there with Margie and Tom.

24. 17:22 – Eileen Dowiatt Quinn

Sorry to say, I can't make the Lake Ellyn stroll tomorrow. Can I suggest a gathering somewhere air conditioned next year for socializing since July 15 seems to end up being a hot day? I continue to be impressed with the wit, stamina, and talent for communication that the class of '59 exhibits! Will we be trading "growing old coping stories" as time goes by? From the amazing times some of us are covering a mile, maybe there is some wisdom to be shared. I did do my mile today at our air conditioned health club on a tread mill and clocked 17.22. Can I used a pulled groin muscle as an excuse for my time?

25. 18:10 - Nancy Fricke Johnson
This Class of '59 "Couch Potato" did get out and take a mile walk this morning with overcast skies, 73 degrees, 100% humidity, The Woodlands, TX (north Houston), Time: 18.10 Thanks, Tom, for keeping us all moving, reconnecting, laughing, and remembering how great it is to be a part of the Class of '59!!! On to next year~~~

26. 19:55 – Judy Wood Talley
Reporting in but first I must give an update on the circumstances. We are at Flagler Beach FL and have been since June 23. The first five days Storm Bonnie came thru with LOTS of rain so the four guests and I ate and drank the dark gloomy days away. They left, sun came out, more company--no exercise--lots of food and drink. More company and lo--performance day! So after going to the airport at 4:30 a.m. and driving an hour and a half back to the condo I rested. At 4:00 I walked my mile in the wet sand on the shore of the Atlantic, 85 degrees, 66% humidity, cool breeze ..this fat and bloated lady in her bathing suit walked 19:55--not fast but oh my the effort that was given--really magnificent after the last three weeks!! Maybe faster next year, but hey--I am 70 now so....and as I walked I thought of my Glenbard classmates! Hail to all of us!!!!

27. 20:40 – Helen Moran Lemal
Had a lovely walk this morning with Karen Murphy and our dogs. Did our mile in 20:40, and then walked the dogs a bit farther. ?6,500' elevation, 75°, cool? breeze, well, breeze, and delightful company. Thanks for keeping us all in touch with one another, and for the wonderful banter. No one believes that so many of us still do this.

27. 20:40 – Karen Murphy
I plan to do my mile here in Silver City, NM, as usual. Haven't decided on my neighborhood stroll with the dog or a faster trip around the high school track. It's still high, a bit humid (not the usual 8%), and hilly.

29. 21:00 – Dave Zinn
Hi to all the 59ers. I did my mile walk at Mountain View Park this morning. Alt. is 5100 ft, temp. was 71 degrees. In between T & L storms and rain showers. Me and my two dogs did the trek in 21 minutes, had to stop once. I struggle to get over 2.8 mph, can't keep up with Dick. Lots of rain in PV today.

30. 21:52 - Dick Cassidy
First, the excuses ~ why not lead with my strengths? By mistake, I wore my Mesa Verde t-shirt, which added at least 6,000' to the altitude.
Second, my plan, which I mark as fiendishly clever. I note that the times for the group, including the astro blasters, is slowing down a bit. If I can hold on for another 17, maybe 18 years, I believe the speed merchants will have faded enough that we'll all be clustered around like a bunch of six year old soccer players, scrumming our way over various hill and dale, still geographically separated (and linguistically separated a la Dr. Petersen), but clutched together emotionally and in memory ~ a dazzling display of togetherness. Dare I say it? We really are neat, though I doubt the Glenbard Class of '12 uses that term.

Third, my time. Sigh. Honesty is nasty burden in this matter. It appears I've worn out times that start with a "1". Today's effort starts with a "2" as in 20:34. In metric, however, that plummets to 18 minutes and 48 seconds or thereabouts...unless I've done it backwards, in which case I'm left with a 21 minute 52 second blot on my permanent record, and, as we were all warned in high school, your permanent record follows you forever!

31. 22:00 – Dorothy Johnson Kuch
I walked my mile yesterday in 22 minutes, about the best I can do with a nagging knee problem. I put some lively FM music on my old Walkman to encourage a "faster" pace. Yeah, right! When I got home I found my terrific husband had whipped up some delicious pancakes for us, much appreciated.

32. 28:00 - Meribeth Fyler Jones
The co-chair of the Lake Ellyn talk and walk group did one round in 15? and the other half mile on the treadmill in 13 min. I'll say 28. Still under 30.This has been a real thrill to keep reconnecting, year after year. Lunch at the Seven Dwarfs was good, too. It's good to know the effort is rewarded, not the actual speed. Come visit me in Surprise, AZ in the winter.

33. 41:00 – Neal Whitecotton
laser-measured, satellite confirmed one mile at Lake Ellyn, my time 41 minutes flat. We had no yellow jackets, no coyotes, no bears, nor potholes. We did have heat (in the 80s, felt like 90s with high humidity of an undetermined number value). We did have fun. We shared a lot of memories, and replenished burned calories at The Seven Dwarfs afterward. A fun day; an annual event that is becoming a tradition; thanks to all for your part.

34. 46:00 – Marybert Buethe Carveth
I find it somewhere between amusing and amazing to hear something about how the lives of my grade school and junior high and high school friends turned out. For most of the time I knew most of these people, you and me included, we couldn't even drive a car! what a nice time we had -- that is, nice occasion. our "time" was something else! i think roger said 46 minutes exactly! thanks to maribeth and neal for macro organizing the fun, and roger for keeping the time and distance data!

35. 47:00 – Bruce Spencer
NEAL WHITECOTTON AND I TIED AT 47 MINUTES. WE WOULD HAVE MADE IT SOONER, BUT WE HAD TO STOP FOR PICTURES FOR THE NATIONAL PRESS. LOOK FOR PICTURES IN UPCOMING E-MAILS!
SPENCE

36/36. 48:00 - Chuck and Becky (Bulleit) Gelhaar
Becky and I teed off at 4:06pm today, played 9 holes of golf in 96 minutes. Golfers believe they cover 2 miles in 9 holes so our average time was 48 minutes per mile. Also worked out to less than one minute per shot. Thinking good thoughts for all of you and look forward to our next reunion. Still the BEST high school and setting we have ever seen. Wonderful memories!

38. 49:20 - KAY HALL KONOPKA
AS MARILYN MARKOWSKI FURER REPORTED, SHE AND I STROLLED IN AFTER 49 MINUTES AND 20 SECONDS, DUE TO GREAT CONVERSATION WITH

EVERYONE, TAKING IN THE GLENBARD SCENE, PICTURE TAKING , RESTROOM BREAKS, AND A FUN TIME. THANKS SO MUCH FOR GETTING US IN TOUCH WITH EACH OTHER AND TRYING TO KEEP US IN SHAPE!! UNTIL NEXT YEAR,

38. 49:20 – Marilyn Markowski Furer
"Strolling" around Lake Ellyn twice brought in a time of 49 minutes and 20 seconds for me. Kay Hall Konopka and I tied for last place, coming in 20 seconds after the rest of this lively crew. Others in the group wanted to deduct for rest stops, water breaks, and picture taking so they may have different times.

40. 53:00 Bob Stoothoff
Official Submission: Mile Swim accomplished today – July 14- finished before lunch will be napping this afternoon. I did the mile (full 5280 Feet) in 53 minutes. I am happy to resubmit in that last year's effort was a swim/walk in the pool following a rehab from an A-Fib experience, and this year, thanks to modern medicine and some conditioning, I am swimming the full mile. I am reminded, as well by all of you, that is great to be "keepin on"

41. 54:56 – Judy Smith Noren
Another great job of getting everyone together again this year. I swam my mile in 54:56 minutes - 1760 yards not the 1650 yards (swimmers mile). Thank you everyone for an entertaining week of emails. Looking forward to next year.

42. 5:31.00 – Mike Hoy
I completed my mile in two sections as I previously reported. I realized my prior mistake was not paying enough attention to my attire. I wore Levi 505 jeans, a cotton Hawaiian shirt and my well worn Rebok Classics.I do not own any pink socks so I went with white! My first half mile started at 9:38AM, it was 73.5 degrees, 48% humidity with a calm, 5mph SW wind. My total time, including 3 breaks was 20 minutes. The second half mile started at 2:49 PM, it was 95.6 Degrees, 30% humidity and the wind was up to 9 mph out of the SW. My time was a blistering 16 minutes. My total time was 5 hours 31 minutes of which only 36 minutes was actual competition

43. 10:00 - Cathy Ayers Allen
In spite of the fact that the Weather Underground - an Ann Arbor-based website for weather not an Ann Arbor organization my brother belonged to - mentioned a chance of thunderstorms, it was clear, 76 and not humid at 10 when I started. I liked the idea of GE people walking/running around Lake Ellyn so I headed for the park along the Huron River - decided to go for ambiance and not distance or time. I have something going on in a hip or groin - muscle, tendon? - that isn't great for walking and about 10 minutes along - maybe half way - I decided to quit and not push it anymore. I could hear Coach Johnson yelling in my head but I did it anyway. As a wise person once said, old age is not for sissies.

44. 24:37.0 – Jim Undem
Finished my mile in 24 hours and 37 minutes therefore I am DQing myself due to 24 hour rule(Chapter 16, paragraph 23A, sub-section 3.14, line 22……."Thou shalt not take longer than……"). Had no problem during first half yesterday, but didn't pay enough attention to the above rule this morning and started late. Enjoyed the walk and the comments and plan to be back next year sans walker. Need to replace the tennis balls on the rear legs of the walker as they are now shredded.

No Time – No Distance

45. Sherry Rogers Williamson
I, too, will be traveling tomorrow, but, will try to figure something out for Monday. Since it is supposed to be over 100 in Madison, I may resort to the stationary bike. Whatever--I am with you all in spirit. I love the bantering, etc., from everyone. Quite a remarkable class we have!!!! Great job, Margie!!! I am sure that your pink attire had much to do with your success. We did have a good time, didn't we?

Unable to Participate

46. Joe Petter
Sorry that I missed the event but I just returned from a business trip to Singapore and Thailand and didn't access my social email account while I was gone. Hope to participate next year. Best wishes and good health to all,

46. Hank Vanderleest
I have no run/walk time to report. I mainly exercise by lap swimming. After running 40 - 50 miles per week for 40 years, I had a heart attack! Where's the justice in that? Good to hear from everyone.

46. Joni Paulsen Fuchs
I am so grateful for all the wonderful photos of Glenbard, Lake Ellyn and the boathouse and of the Lake Ellyn runners. Thank you so much. I treasure them. I have such fond memories of my days at Glenbard, and the 50th reunion was fantastic fun. It was like time travel! Thank you Roger for the well-written summary, which is an example of our good education at Glenbard. You should see some of the e-mails I get from my Web sites; some are indecipherable! Anyway...I regret I didn't participate. It was just one little task, but this year it was just one little task too many. I look forward to next year...

46. Barrie Good Burr
I am afraid I will not be able to participate in this year's event, at least not for 2 weeks. I had a lesion removed from my ankle yesterday which seemed like it would be no big deal, but since blood flow to legs is not a good as blood flow elsewhere, doc said I need to be on crutches for 2 weeks and elevate the leg. Walking with crutches is an experiment in learning how not to slip and break the good leg. Also noticed that crutches were made in China and disintegration or other calamity can not be ruled out.

46. Joy (Aigner) Baldwin
I am not able to participate this year due to lengthy surgery tomorrow. Will be in the hospital for 6 days and I'm not taking my laptop along, so please remove my name from all the emails . Hope you all have a great time and that next year I can participate again. We just had a soaking rain, and our Waldo Canyon Fire is nearly extinguished. The area where Kirkie Morrissey lives was evacuated last week, but our house was safe.

Life is returning to normal but the fire was tragic for many families. Run, walk, swim, and bike well,

46. John Zorn
I am asking to stay on the list. Macie Collins Zorn and I were not available to meet at Lake Ellyn, maybe another time. I have to admit that the reason Macie and I did not go to Lake Ellyn to run is we were in Jamaica, Does swimming to the pool bar count?

46. Jeff Baker
Tried to stretch a triple into a single playing In Sr. Baseball league .Ankle sprain puts me on DL. Put my time in at 1 sec. ahead of Undem ..thx for doing this every year, Tom..Regards to all and "stay thirsty" my friends !!

46. Bob Brunk
Sorry to miss this auspicious event! I won't be able to show up as we have our 256th auction of fine antiques tomorrow. It's the end of a 30 year career for me. My son, Andrew, of Antiques Road Show fame is taking over. I remember running around Lake Ellyn on the cross-country team. I can tell you the distance exactly: about a mile more than I wanted to run. Hoping you all can take everything in stride.

46. Susie Wallace Burwell
I enjoyed all of your emails after we arrived back in Scottsdale after spending three delightful cool weeks in Idaho. So glad you all had a good, run walk or swim this am. Steve Capel so glad you took your wife along to pick you up off of the pavement. Teun, enjoy your new knees, they are great, mine are now ten years old, Good job all of you!!!!!

46. Bill Maletich
Am not able to participate in walking or running due to some medical problems, but am with all in spirit. As Arnold would say "I'll be back", next year that is. Thanks to Tom for keeping this going and helping us all stay in contact.

46. Arlene Kirkie Morrissey
GREAT photos – and an even GREATER GROUP! What fun times we had at Glenbard, with friends from Lombard and GE, and what special friendships we still enjoy. Your photos and reflections are significant – and inspiring (As is Margie's time!). You all are terrific! Kirkie

46. Dick Fish
I really receiving the photos you sent out! As I reside in Toronto, Canada, and as I've no surviving family, there are frankly no occasions occurring now which bring me back to the Glen Ellyn area, and then the only activities would entail visiting Forest Hill Cemetery and driving past my old home! As for running a "commemorative mile", frankly with heart disease and copd, walking to the car is a chore! Thanks again for the "Lake Ellyn" photos and memories!

Late Response

46. Dennis Achilles
Its good of you to follow up .. Keep me on the list .. I enjoy reading the emails .. but, you are correct, I don't take part in the walk/competition .. Incidentally, are there any rumors that you might know about another reuniion? If such a thing is planned, I would certainly like to know .. Since I really don't have any communication with anyone (except you), i, of course, haven't heard anything and certainly aren't trying to start a rumor. In any case, thanks for the email..

46. Pat Galligan Witt
Include me!

46. John Pond
I'm still here, and keep me on the list. I'm planning a big comeback at the airport, 5000ft. runway, one of these nights when it is cool.

46. Diane Curran
Thank you for the reminder! I am definitely interested in being included. I do not think I received the original email. It probably went to the Spam folder.

46. Ruth “Kolberg” Newton
Thanks for the reminder to report on the July 15th event. I was unable to participate this year, because I was in the hospital and I didn’t have enough halls to do a mile with the walker. We should be back in our own home so and the future looks bright, I’d like to be sent the results. I plan on participating next year. I enjoy on keeping up with everyone from the class of ‘59 with your e-mails and “July 15th Event”
